A THOROUGH TEST

One To Convince the Most Skeptical
Norway Reader.

The test of time is the test that counts.
Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action.

The following case is typical.
Norway residents should be convinced
The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete.

Testimony like this cannot be ignored.
Wm. O. Needham, retired farmer, Main St., Norway, says: "At different times when I have taken cold, my kidneys have become affected. Several years ago when I felt that my kidneys needed attention, I got Doan's Kidney Pills from F. P. Stone's drug store. They strengthened my kidneys, ridding my system of the excess uric acid and in a short time
I felt much better."

The above statement was given July 24, 1908 and on June 6, 1916, Mr. Needham said: "I still gladly endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. My confidence in them is as strong as ever. I occasionally use Doan's when I feel in need of them
and always get fine results."

AMERICA GREET'S YOU

From north and south and east and west
Our kinsmen here hail,
Who fought the fight and gave their best
That every man should fall.

No bugle's blast proclaimed their quest
As eastward trains were rushed,
Thousands banners met the breeze
Our farewells all were hushed.

But many a prayer went with our men
"God guard you—strike the foe,
If you must say for Country's sake,
There's none shall say you 'no'."

Along sea-lanes where lurked the Hun
In monsters of the deep
Our watch-dog Navy's work was done—
All honor may they reap.

And safely near the ports of France
Our first and many more,
Have loved the hard and blessed chance
That glimpses of hill and shore.

From Somerville to far Sedan,
From Soissons, Cantigny too,
Saint Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne
We've watched your spirit true.

And many a Hun has rued the day
He faced your gleaming steel,
The Allied cause was driven through
And haughty monarchs kneel.

And now we hear the martial tramp
Of many a thousand feet,
Returning heroes home at last
We pause with joy to greet.

We honor you, Oh men of ours!
Emotion halts our breath
The thought of comrades close to you,
Their voices stilled in death.

Tears for our God—his righteous cause
You fought in fact and name
And in our hearts we give you place—
Our Country's Hall of Fame.

ROAD NOTES.

"Nobody would think of shovelling gold coins on the surface of the road and leaving them there to be worn out, yet that is what is being done every year.

Thousands of dollars are spent for road improvements each year, but after the improvement is made it is a common occurrence to leave the new road in the mercy of the traffic and the weather.

It is true that today the importance of maintenance is being recognized more than it was in the past, but there are still communities that believe that a road surface is permanent and should never wear out.

In some localities the other extreme is reached. People do not appreciate the economic advantage of a first class road, but they are willing to maintain their dirt roads. This is commonly done by taking any material that may be on hand,
such as sods, clay, loam or gravel, which contains so much vegetable matter, that the least rain will produce a surface that is frequently mud to the depth of two feet or more. Of course, it must be realized that these materials are not suitable for a hard road surface or even a temporary surface, if the weather is wet, and the money that is thrown on a road in this way, if spent intelligently, would result in a vast improvement over the present conditions.

Sometimes, the foreman of a gang
building a road, is under the impression that he is building a gravel road simply because there happens to be gravel in the bank where he is getting his material.

Gravel suitable for road building should be well graded from large to small particles, and should contain just sufficient sand and other material to cement
the mass together. If the material, as it stands in the bank, is not of the proper proportions, it should be screened and the excess large or fine material should be thrown out.

A gravel road to be kept in first class condition should receive the constant attention of a maintenance and repair gang. This type of surface should only be built on roads receiving light traffic.

When the children are obliged to carry their luncheon it is necessary that it be attractive as well as nutritious. Usually the child would rather play than eat, but if his basket is likely to contain his favorite foods he will forego the pleasure of play long enough to partake of its contents.

A wise mother whose little boy was inclined to slight his luncheon in favor of play made a "bargain" with him. It was agreed that he should eat all the luncheon provided and in the bottom of the basket he would always find a surprise." The habit of eating luncheon was firmly established with this child.

Variety is a prime necessity and must be kept constantly in mind. The sandwich and fortunately the main part of the meal
it can be "different" each day. Cutting the bread in unusual shapes or using another kind of bread helps the variety. The number and kind of sandwiches must be determined by the needs of the particular child.

Fruit, fresh or canned, should always be included. This may be an apple, orange, banana, berries, etc., in season, but quality canned fruits are always available and are equal in every way to the fresh fruit. If canned fruit is used it should be placed in a covered cup such as is used for jelly.

The luncheon should contain some sweet. This may be a custard, a few gingerbread or cookies, plain cake, the sandwiches are sweet. In case some of the raisin bread or filled with jelly, jam,
etc., less dessert is needed.

Some liquid should always be provided.
Milk, grape juice and cocoa are all quite satisfactory. Juices from the canned keeps the cold liquids cold and the bottle in cold weather. Bouillon may be carried in the thermos bottle and served in a "sanitary" paper cup.

With the wide variety from which to choose there is no excuse for monotony in school luncheons. A well-balanced luncheon, neatly packed and carrying an element of surprise, will seldom go uneaten.

FOR A Cold or Cough
to 8 parts cold water add 1 part each of aromatic ammonia, glycerine, sugar.
Dose: 1 teaspoonful every hour and 4 tea-spoonfuls on retiring. For a cough and more sugar to the above and use as needed.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

Efforts are being made in Portland
and other cities to have the Daylight Saving Plan another summer and arrangements may be made for the plan to extend over the whole state of Maine.

In many cities of different states clubs and associations are being formed to further arrangements. The great majority of people, business men and farmers, are highly in favor of the plan which has proved very satisfactory during the past two years and its continuance is greatly desired.

MILEAGE

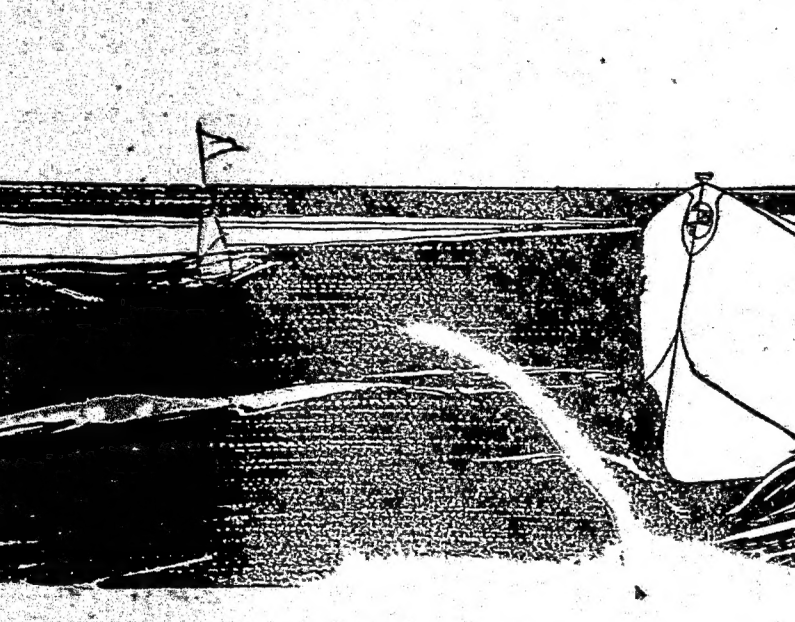

The motor runs far and true on a filling of So-CO-ny Gasoline. The force of every drop goes into mileage. No delayed starts nor tardy pick-ups, no clogged carburetors, no carbon-sapped power with So-CO-ny. It burns clean—vaporizes readily any season—requires just one carburetor adjustment.

Now or a month from now—here or hundreds of miles from here—it's the same.

Inferior, inert mixtures shorten engine life. Think twice before you buy them. Choose So-CO-ny. At the So-CO-ny Sign.

OXFORD COUNTY FAIR OBSERVATIONS.

E. H. Fellows' Shows went to Farmington early in the week. They had seven days for the jump and were not loaded in their special car until Tuesday. Business proved good considering the ferris wheel was the only machine in operation until Saturday. During the last day money poured into the coffers but no land slide is reported. They expect to return next season with a merry-go-round which will scoop the board clean.

No band music this year. The Lewiston Brigade came up Tuesday morning by automobile and returned immediately. This would have been their tenth annual trip here. And they were missed especially Saturday when their music between heats would have made the fair seem more like our regular show.

Baseball is a live feature as the enthusiastic side line crowds proved. The society made no mistake by getting the Norway and West Paris teams onto the field. Arthur Walker of Oxford had a strong aggregation engaged to represent his town against West Paris but rain up set all plans and the players couldn't be held over.

Wet weather, wild men and the Harem damsel didn't blend. Sometime Friday night the two shows packed up their belongings and beat it out of town. They left behind their platform with pits and banner frames, also in the rush they forgot to settle a few bills it is said.

Dust was flying on the track before noon, Saturday, some twelve hours after the heavy rain ceased falling. Odell C. Rich with the Garford truck kept the circle brushed during the races but no sprinkler was needed this year. The course was in fine condition for speed.

Robert York formerly of Norway, who commenced years ago here with a ten pin game is still at it. His strong speciality is working summer parks and beaches. A glutted market and rain made business dull until Saturday when he opened a "Harem" show for men only and gathered in the shekels. High prices plus war tax causes no inconvenience to the purse "wiggler" posing as a dope exponent.

Dallas L. Benson of East Oxford formerly a Texas ranger was featured near the Cattle Department, Saturday in a miniature wild west show. He saddled and rode a horse not broken to the ways of civilization. Three months ago the animal was unmanageable and primitive, never having been trained. A course of instruction at the Fuller farm in East Oxford broke him to harness, then a wagon followed, now he is the most willing worker on the place. H. H. Hosmer the snow-shoe man of Norway, with western experiences assisted in the show with a good exhibition of lariat spinning and juggling.

E. P. Lombard of Lewiston the pop corn man with a $5000 motor outfit made good with fluffy corn and roasted peanuts. This summer he has built ships at Bath during the day, and operated the traveling store on the street corner evenings. After settling down from the fairs he plans to drive the motor store to the factory in Chicago for painting, alterations and a general over hauling. While the job is being completed he will winter under the sunny skies in California. We can expect him at our fair next year.

Corp. Rice, the iron jaw man went on exhibition Saturday afternoon at various places. Several feats of strength and muscled tests were performed at the Fairman Girls show. He was secured for a free attraction on the track in front of the grandstand when he allowed a touring car weighing more than twenty-four hundred pounds motor over his body. Public opinion is certainly changing up this way. The Girls show are gaining in popularity and catching after every bullyho. Years ago this flashy and sensational display wouldn't pass. The only way to get a modified couching show through was to tack on a sign "Philippines Beligious Rites." Possibly the modern fashions in women's dresses may have let down the bars of a new code of ethics in this new world of unsettled ideas. Some twenty-five years ago a prominent circus was chased out of the State for allowing an Egyptian dance in their side show. That was a modest poltry of motion in comparison to our latter day entertainment.

Friday was the middle day and probably two thousand people disregarded the frowning skies forecasting wet weather and visited the fair. The wind changed about noon from south east to north west and down came rain in torrents until late in the evening. Everybody kept under cover, consequently the exhibition hall was crowded to the doors throughout the afternoon. Bright lights shone and music from player pianos and a "canned" product entertained the good natured assembly. One of the best displays gathered at any fair of this size offered an interesting study for the rain bound visitors.

The parade of premium stock was given up this year owing to many unavoidable inconveniences. Stockmen were heard hit as many had been on the grounds since Monday waiting for the judges to look 'em over. No premiums in this department were awarded until Friday forenoon, then business went a-jogging with a boom.

Saturday was officially the third day for the Oxford County Agricultural Society but to the crowd it was a regular three-in-one with a condensed show covering the whole program.

Clear weather ushered in this last struggle to make it go, but rain soaked roads kept many home. Probably 10,000 people attended and were entertained up to sun down.

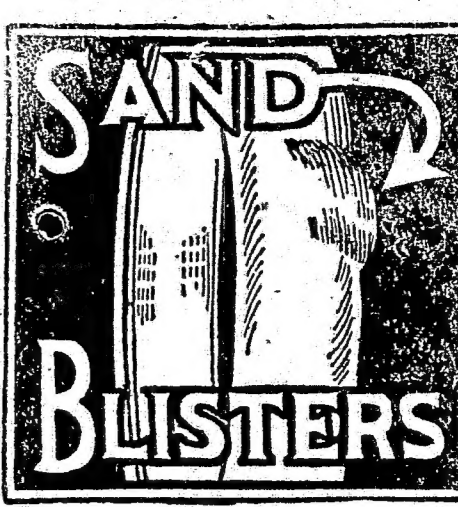

Pakir row had been shot to pieces and many vacant lots were swarmed in a long line. All exhibits in the hall, cattle and other departments were held over. Although not improved by a week of rain and dampness, the exhibits made a creditable showing and in no wise injured the good reputation of this annual show.

Annual Meeting

The annual meeting was held Saturday afternoon and occupied less than fifteen minutes. President William J. Wheeler who held that office twenty-four years resigned, and expressed a desire to nominate Leslie E. McIntire of East Waterford to that position. Mr. McIntire was elected with a vote cast by the secretary.

E. W. Penley was elected vice-president to succeed Mr. McIntire. William O. Brothman was elected secretary to succeed himself. Trustees, T. P. Richardson of Norway and W. H. Kilgore of Andover were also re-elected. Arthur G. Haynes of Oxford was a new trustee elected to succeed E. W. Penley. President Wheeler estimated this year's deficit would be about $5,000. On the

No ache

The rational treatment for headache is to get at the cause, if possible, and remove it. Headache is only a symptom of trouble somewhere in the system, and dosing with painkillers containing acetanilid or other coal-tar derivatives which stop the pain temporarily but weaken the heart, is at once unsafe and unwise. The headache may come from your eyes, then a good oculist can help you. If it comes with proper eyeglasses, but if it comes with furred tongue, loss of appetite, nausea, and constipation, it is usually the result of indigestion, or torpid liver, and one or two doses of "L. F." medicine will speedily help you by carrying off impurities and restoring the clogged digestive organs to their normal activity. Following this old reliable remedy, you take no chances of weakening the heart's action. You are not getting rid of your headache for a day or two, you are getting at the cause of illness and creating permanent improvement.

The "L. F." medicine has proved a safe and reliable standby for sick headache sufferers. Small dose, fifty cents at any dealer's.

Wentworth-White Our townspeople will, no doubt be interested in the following account of the marriage of Ralph C. Wentworth which took place at Lyngsbo on Aug. 22. The bride, Helen P. White is the youngest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Albert C. White. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. White, father of the bride in the Unitarian church at Lyngsbo, of which he is pastor. The bride is admired and beloved by a large circle of friends and the bridegroom is very popular in educational circles, being a teacher of science in the high school of Springfield, Vt.

The marriage took place at 8 o'clock, and was followed by a reception at the Unitarian parsonage. The wedding party receiving on the lawn, while refreshments were served in the house.

At the church the decorations were beautiful. The altar was a solid background of bright autumn flowers, and in the foreground of the chancel was three floral arches. The bride party stood under a floral bell suspended from center arch.

Before the entrance of the bride party, A. Corydon White, of Worcester, a brother of the bride, sang, "O Promise Me." Frances Whiteside accompanied on the organ, and also played the wedding marches. The bride entered with her mother and was met at the altar by the bridegroom, who was attended by Harold N. Jones of Peabody.

The maid of honor was Louise Davis of Columbus, Ohio. The four bridesmaids were Gertrude Peery, of Bangor, Corinne White, a sister, and Marion Baker, both of Bangor, and Margaret Gould of Orono. The ushers were Merritt O. White of Boston and Horace H. White of Worcester, brothers of the bride, Charles Parker of Pepperell, and Herbert Emmseller of Columbus, O. Wallace Butterfield was ring bearer.

Ralph C. Wentworth, is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. George Wentworth of this village both of whom attended the wedding and is a graduate of our high school, and Bridgton Academy and of the University of Maine.

THE GIRL HE BROUGHT WITH HIM

According to the American Legion Weekly, the soldiers and sailors of this County have brought back with them from France, England, Ireland and Scotland, 13,000 brides—most of whom, of course, are utter strangers in the land, and nervously apprehensive of the first meeting with the husbands' relatives. The language is not stranger than the mode of life. It's a long way to the thatched roofs and white walls of the village beyond the sea. When the doughboy was in France he freely admitted his longing for the sights and sounds and ice cream sodas of home. Is it wonderful, then, if bravely transplanted to the new world with all her happiness staked upon the matrimonial venture?

Some of them, of course, suffer a bitter disillusionment. The husband tires of the sworn allegiance, and there are slackers and deserters in marriage even as in martial affairs. The imported bride finds that the man she married is far less solicitous and considerate now that he is back in a land where girls of his own tongue and social tradition are plentiful. She is perhaps less decorative than some of these young women; her training has been in the more substantial accomplishments of the home-builder. He looks for more of the playmate than she knows how to be; her youth may have been spent in sobering toil, and since she is nearly all the fun in the world has been in America and not in Europe. We are bound to remember when we institute comparisons that Europe has been a house of mourning. We have been a house of death. We may learn to make allowances for features that are not at ways frivolously pretty when we reflect that the iron has entered into the soul.

Let us, as we are urged to do, receive the war-bride from abroad with every manifestation of sympathy and not as though she had entered with him a layard to an entangling alliance. In a few instances can it be truthfully said that she is marrying him for his money. In most cases he is coming from $33 a month to conjugal occupation. She is bravely endeavoring to share with him a hard of new fortunes, and she displays a valiant initiative like his own when he went over sea to fight. She may not reveal the lively versatility we associate with the nature of the American girl, but she will, in a congenial environment, of answering devotion, show the attributes of affectionate constancy that are the assurance of happy marriages.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

PROBABLE PRODUCTION OF A COW.

For the past six years the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station has been making exhaustive study on the physiology of milk production and the laws of inheritance. Below a very simple way to determine the probable production of the first five lactations of a cow's life from that of her heifer record. The first five lactations were chosen only because it was a convenient number and represented about the average time that most cows remained in the herd.

The reckoner is a pencil, yard stick, and sheet of paper a little over 2 feet wide and 3 feet long. Draw a line short way of the paper about one inch from the edge. From the left hand end of this line draw a vertical, perpendicular to the base line, 14 inches in length. Twenty-five inches from this line along the base draw another vertical, perpendicular to the base. 36 inches high. Connect the top of the 14 inch vertical with that of the 36 inch vertical. Mark the base of the 14 inch vertical 1500. Measure from the intersection of this vertical 1 inch along the base line, mark this dot 1700; the next inch dot will be 1900 pounds and so on up to the base of the 36 inch vertical. These 1500, 1700, etc., represent pounds of milk that a heifer produced in the first 8 months of her first lactation.

To find milk production to be expected of the cow in her first five 8 months lactations all that is necessary is to find her actual production in her first year on the base line, say it was 1900, and from this point measure the number of inches that it is up to the slanting line, this would be for 1900, 15 7-8 inches. The number of inches represented the number of thousand pounds which this cow would be expected to produce in her first lactations, that is 15900 pounds.

On the other hand it is quite simple to figure what the expected production would be. Multiply the first eight months production of the heifer by 4.32 and to the result add 7671 and you have the average number of pounds that a heifer whose 8 months production is known, would give as the total of her five lactations. To take the previous example 1900 multiplied by 4.31 equals 8189; add to this 7671 and the sum 15860 is the number of pounds of milk which a heifer producing 1900 pounds in her first lactation would be expected to produce as the total of her first five 8 months lactations.

NEED MANY MEN FOR MAINE WOODS

It is estimated that there will be over 4,000 men employed in the woods of Maine during the present season which will continue into the Spring months. There is a good demand for men in the various classes of that work. The logging operations in Maine will not, from present appearances, be on such a large scale as usual. The majority of the contracts will be conducted by the smaller jobbers. As a greater part of the timber is cut for pulp mill uses it is not necessary to make such a great effort as when the forest product is used for the long lumber mills. Many of the large pulp mills that have wide timber limits are cutting only what they need over and above the supplies that are coming from other sources. Large amounts of wood are coming from Canada to the mills, and the Maine owners of timber tracks are letting their lumber stand as long as possible. Lumbering in New Hampshire this year will be quite extensive.

For a number of years the city of New York has contemplated the creation of a city planning commission for regulating the various civic improvements and undertakings of the municipality as well as those of private individuals. The work which would come under the supervision of such a city planning commission would include, among other things, housing, industrial structures, the conveyance of supplies and materials of manufacture and manufactured products, the disposal of waste material, the arrangement of the various sections of the city in accessible manner, rapid and convenient means of transportation, the provision of facilities for education and public recreation.

These are the fundamental objects of city planning, but many other city activities would come under the supervision of the city planning commission, such as regulating the height of buildings dividing the city into districts, and zoning, traffic regulations, etc.

It may be necessary first to expose the sore and infectious of present economic conditions, but it is the course of treatment to restore health and safety that is most important. The true objective of good citizenship is Government based upon principles of liberty equality and justice.

Build Now

The general opinion of those qualified to judge is that all building material will be higher instead of lower, and we believe this ourselves. At this time we have a complete stock of all kinds of building material; at most impossible to get shipments from the mills and in our opinion the situation in this respect will not improve, so we say BUILD NOW.

14 Points of Economy

POINT SEVEN! Ladies, we have in stock several pairs of black and brown shoes, and owing to the tremendous increased cost of manufacturing, averaging in many cases 50 per cent., it is perhaps needless for us to say that it will be impossible for us to replace this line of footwear at the price we are selling them for. Call and look them over and without doubt you will see at a glance that it is a chance to save on your next pair of shoes.

While attending the Oxford County Fair don't fail to give us a call as usual, we are always pleased to see you and will be pleased to show you whether you buy or not.

BUCKFIELD

Thomas S. Bridgman

The funeral of Thomas S. Bridgman, who died in Buckfield, Sept. 15, of pneumonia, was held from Hotel Long on Sunday afternoon, Rev. Frank Dresser officiating. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Henry H. Nulty, and one brother, William H. Bridgman of Buckfield. A son, Harold Bridgman, died in Illinois a few years since, and a brother, the late Dr. Charles B. Bridgman, died in Cohasset, Mass., where he was a leading practitioner. Capt. Bridgman was genial and social and during a long life of nearly eighty-three years, has held many offices of trust.

Mr. Bridgman was born in Buckfield, Nov. 29, 1836, the son of Sydenham and Lucretia (Shepard) Bridgman. As a schoolboy he was a schoolmate of the late Hon. John D. Long and Hon. Edward L. Parris, who now resides on Paris Hill. Mr. Bridgman fitted for college and spent a year at Tufts. Later he read law with Sullivan C. Andrews at Buckfield, and with Judge Howard and Sewell G. Stout in Portland and was admitted to the Cumberland bar in 1859. He began the practice of law at Bryant's Pond and there married a daughter of James H. Farnum. Later he practised at Windham and at Mechanic Falls.

At the breaking of the civil war he was engaged as recruiting officer. In 1863 he enlisted as a private in a Maine regiment, but was soon afterwards commissioned by Governor Andrew of Massachusetts, second lieutenant in the 54th Massachusetts Regiment, where he served until discharged in August, 1865. After leaving the service he engaged in business for a time in Buckfield and Portland, and then resumed the practice of law in his native town, where he has ever since resided.

Besides his law practice, he had for some years a large interest in the brush factory. In town affairs he served many years on the board of selectmen, and in other capacities. He was always a democratic, serving on the State and other committees and active in the councils of the party. In 1880 he was elected representative to the legislature. Under President Cleveland's first administration he received an appointment at Portland custom house and held the position some over four years. In 1915 he was appointed by President Wilson one of the board of managers of soldiers' homes.

An attractive wedding took place Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Saint Barnabas Episcopal church when George Stanley Cross and Eliza Robichaud Whetten were united in marriage by the Rev. Franklin Joiner of Philadelphia, the single ring service being used. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Mr. Alfred Jones, the bride procession passed down the center aisle and was led by the ushers, Leonard Robichaud, a brother of the bride and Kenneth Seymour, a cousin of the bride, followed by Thyllis Seymour, who served as bridesmaid. The bride followed with her father, Edward Whetten and the groom and his attendant, Daniel Robichaud, a brother of the bride.

The ceremony was most impressive and a large number of friends and relatives were present. The church was decorated with autumn leaves, woodbine, asters and many potted plants arranged by the ladies of St. Barnabas Guild.

The bride's gown was of white georgette crepe over white satin and she wore a hat of georgette crepe. Her bridal bouquet was of golden chrysanthemums and white feverfew. The bridesmaid was becomingly gowned in blue tulle and carried pink sweet peas.

After the ceremony, luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents in Urquhart street with only the immediate family and relatives present. Sweet peas were used in the home decorations. Mr. and Mrs. Cross left in the afternoon for the bride's traveling suit being brown silvertone with hat in harmonizing shades. Upon their return from their wedding journey they will take up their residence at 11 Urquhart street.

The bride was attended by the groom's sister, Anna Philbrick and Clifford Small served as attendant to the groom. Hazel Prickett, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march.

In the living room where the ceremony took place chrysanthemums, dahlias and asters were used effectively in decoration. The bride's gown was of white georgette crepe and her veil was caught with flowers. She carried a showy bouquet of white roses. Her bridesmaid's gown was of cream crepe de chine and her flowers were pink roses.

Only the immediate families and near relatives of the bride and groom were present. After the ceremony a social meal was enjoyed. Cakes and ices were served by Mrs. Carroll Austin and Mrs. A. E. Small.

After a honeymoon spent at the Rangeley Lakes, the bride couple will return to their home which is awaiting them at 32 Osborn Avenue, Mexico.

Rosindale Woman Recommends This Prescription

Mrs. Albert J. Patch, of Rosindale, Mass., writes: "Before taking your medicine (Dr. Truett's Elixir) I was troubled with what I thought stomach trouble. I had that terrible gnawing in my stomach nearly all the time. Within half an hour after eating a hearty meal, I was lying in bed every day, feeling as if I was being gnawed every day. After taking your medicine (Dr. Truett's Elixir) I was relieved of that terrible gnawing in my stomach, expelled worms, and I felt like a new person in many ways, and would heartily recommend it to any one suffering as I did."

IMMENSE WATER PRESERVE

A huge water preserve to be constructed in Wentworth's Location, which when completed will be one of the largest in the eastern section of the United States and will nearly equal in size the great Aziscoos Dam, Wilson's Mills, which holds in obedience a stretch of over 20 square miles of water making one of the largest artificial lakes in the country.

The preserve has been completed for the stretching of a great concrete dam and spillway between the Diamond dam and the Roaring River, also the Dead Diamond stream. These streams flow through deep ravines and between mountain peaks and would back the water over parts of the territory of Dixes Grant, Dartmouth College Grant and Atkinson and Gilman Academy Grant. When completed a new artificial lake will be made which will back the water nearly to the Connecticut lakes in the uppermost section of New Hampshire.

The project is one of great importance primarily for the purpose of conserving water for the mills for power purposes during the so-called low water season. Later it may be decided to place hydro-electric plants at the dam.

It is reported that the same interests that are interested in the successful Aziscoos project are behind the present contemplated project, in which all manufacturing plants are greatly interested.

The outlay will not be far from $1,000,000.

The water will be carried as at present through the Magalloway River to the Adroscoggin River.

Fat Folks Learn How to Reduce Your Weight

A Simple, Safe, Reliable Way People who are over-burdened with superfluous fat, know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that over-stout people have to bear.

If you are carrying around 5 or 10 pounds of unhealthy fat, you are unnecessarily weakening your vital organs and are carrying a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure.

There is no need of anyone suffering from superfluous fat. If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way, without starvation, diet or tiresome exercise, spend as much time as you can in the open air, breathe deeply and get from any good druggist a box of Tasso; take one tablet after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week so as to know just how fast you are losing weight and don't leave off the treatment or even skip a single dose until you are down to normal.

Tasso is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps digestion and is designed to consume the excessive fatty tissue by increasing the oxygen-carrying power of the blood. Even a few days' treatment should show a noticeable reduction in weight. Footsteps become lighter, your work seems easier and lighter and more buoyant feeling takes possession of your whole being.

Every person who suffers from superfluous fat should give this treatment a trial, there is nothing better.

STATE OF MAINE

To the Honorable, the Court of County Commissioners for the County of Oxford, next to be held at Paris on the 16th day of September, 1919.

Humbly shows Horace Day and others that down way or private way in the town of Porter, beginning at a point on the corner of Preston B. and Nellie O. Warren, near corner of land of Jacob French, on the northerly side of the highway leading from Kezar Falls to the Porter Meeting House, and running across the easterly side of Gore Field, so-called, belonging to said Warren, to the Mountain Pasture of Horace Day would be of great public convenience for the inhabitants of said town and proprietors of land of said town; that the ably neglected said road has been for years a petition signed by Horace Day and others to lay out the way above specified.

WHEREFORE your petitioners pray that your honors will agreeably to law in such case made and provided, lay out the way above described.

Dated at Porter, Maine, August 4th, A. D. 1919. Signed by Horace Day and 55 others.

COUNTY OF OXFORD, ss. Board of County Commissioners, September Session 1919; held September 16, 1919.
